Shirley Breuel: "Making Paths"

Erdman Hall Gallery

This exhibit features works by Princeton-area painter Shirley Breuel, who comes from a career in professional design and illustration, most notably with Walt Disney Design and Development. An award-winning graduate of Texas Technological University, she says she is interested in representing the paths of human life, "some replete with roots, fear, stumbling stones, steep climbs; others alive with peace, compassion, and comfort." Gallery hours are:

Monday–Friday	8:30 a.m.–4:30 p.m.
Saturday	8:30 a.m.–4:30 p.m.
Sunday	2:30–8:00 p.m.

◆ Currently on display through Wednesday, May 1

"An Exhibit on the Making of the New Revised Standard Version (NRSV) Bible"

Luce Library Exhibit Hall (first floor)

A special book exhibit is currently on display at Luce Library. The display, "An Exhibit on the Making of the NRSV Bible," contains materials from the National Council of Churches relating to the work of the Standard Bible Committee. The exhibit includes examples of NRSV Bibles, translators' notes, and a short video with interviews with the Seminary's faculty members who served on the Standard Bible Committee, foremost of whom was Dr. Bruce Metzger, emeritus professor of New Testament and internationally acclaimed Bible scholar. The exhibit also touches on some of the controversies that surrounded the New Revised Standard Version, which was published in 1989. Hours for the exhibit are:

Monday–Thursday	8:00 a.m.–11:00 p.m.
Friday	8:00 a.m.–5:00 p.m.
Saturday	9:00 a.m.–5:00 p.m.
Sunday	3:00 p.m.–11:00 p.m.

Continuing Education Event: "Preaching the Lent/Easter Cycle: Preparing Sermons That Include Children"

Erdman Hall 9:30 a.m.–3:30 p.m.

This workshop will focus on homiletical strategies that effectively include children as well as adults in the preaching event. Participants will examine lectionary texts and/or traditional Lent/Easter themes and then practice moving back and forth between abstract and concrete expressions of those themes. Preachers will examine their own "signature style" and identify ways to achieve a greater balance between exposition and story, between intellect and affect, between the conceptual and the sensory, between the didactic and the evocative. Participants are asked to bring a Lenten sermon "from the barrel" (Year A, for lectionary-based preachers, if available) and a few children's books that address Lent and Easter themes. (The books may or may not be overtly religious in content.) Ruth L. Boling, an ordained minister of the Presbyterian Church (USA), will lead this workshop. She is the author of Come Worship with Me: A Journey through the Church Year (Geneva Press, 2001), and coauthor of A Children's Guide to Worship (Geneva Press, 1997). PTS students, staff, faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

Continuing Education Event: "The Household of God: Families and the New Testament"

Erdman Hall 9:30 a.m.–3:30 p.m.

This event will explore the function of kinship language in early Christianity, particularly Pauline Christianity, and how it is shaped by apocalyptic convictions. The church as an alternative household challenges—both in the New Testament era and today—the conventional understandings of household. For some who are excluded from their families of origin when they convert to Christianity, the church as the alternative household functions as a replacement family to resolve social conflict. For others, being adopted by God at baptism places them into a new family of Christian brothers and sisters and thus creates social conflict. Participants will ask how the New Testament texts might inform our contemporary discussions about families. Elizabeth Johnson, the J. Davison Philips Professor of New Testament at Columbia Theological Seminary in Decatur, Georgia, will lead this event. She is also the author of numerous publications on Paul and his letters, including 1 and 2 Thessalonians, New Testament Library (Westminster John Knox Press, forthcoming). PTS students, staff, faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

Class Steward Workshop

Cooper Conference Room, Erdman Hall
12:00 p.m. (Friday) to 12:00 p.m. (Saturday)

Alumni/ae representatives from the graduating classes of the last fifty years will be on campus for a fundraising workshop. These class stewards work with their classmates to generate gifts to the annual Alumni/ae Roll Call. All Roll Call gifts are designated for student scholarship aid. Alumni/ae helping students is a Princeton tradition. The workshop is designed to inform the stewards about the Seminary today and to involve them firsthand with the life of the campus. Many of these alumni/ae are returning to Princeton for the first time since graduation. They are committed to the Roll Call because they want to assist today's students. They would welcome the opportunity to get to know current students on an individual basis. Please extend a gracious welcome to them.

Black History Month Opening Ceremony "Honoring Those Who Have Paved the Way: Keep Us Forever in the Path We Pray"

Miller Chapel 7:00 p.m.

Dr. Gardner C. Taylor, pastor emeritus of the historic Concord Baptist Church in Brooklyn, New York, will be the featured preacher at the opening ceremony for Black History Month at PTS. Dr. Taylor has been widely acclaimed as one of the most outstanding preachers in the nation. He has preached on six continents, delivered the 100th Lyman Beecher Lectures at Yale University, and preached the sermon at the prayer service for the inauguration of President William Jefferson Clinton in 1993. Now retired from the pastorate, Dr. Taylor continues to be in great demand as a preacher and lecturer. He recently accepted an appointment as distinguished professor of preaching at New York Theological Seminary.

A reception for Dr. Taylor will take place in the Main Lounge of the Mackay Campus Center immediately following the service. He will also sign copies of his books The Words of Gardner Taylor, volumes 1 through 5.

Note: The entire Black History Month event schedule will appear in next week's Wineskin.

◆ Small Groups and Retreat for Couples

Small groups for couples will be starting second semester. The groups will provide an opportunity to experience and learn about communication in a fun and meaningful way. Participants will get to know other couples and learn about communication through observation and conversation. The groups will meet in the evenings, and dessert will be served. These are not therapy groups, and confidentiality is a given. Small groups can be a great way to develop friendships and support, especially if only one partner is a student. For details or to register, please contact the facilitators directly: Carrie Neff and Bill Mitchell, 919-1717 or Scott and Crissy Koons, 720-1464. If you need help with child-care, please call the Chapel Office at 497-7890. Also, please mark your calendars for a one-day retreat for couples on March 16. Details to follow.

◆ Auditions for Spring Play

This spring, the Speech Communication in Ministry area of the Practical Theology Department will present Murder in the Cathedral by T.S. Eliot. The play, directed by Robert Lanchester, will be performed Thursday April 11 through Sunday, April 14 in the Gambrell Room of Scheide Hall. Auditions will be held on Monday, February 4 through Wednesday, February 6 from 7:30 to 10:00 p.m. All members of the Seminary community are welcome to try out. No experience is necessary. Three credits are available to students who enroll in the course SC340 "Practical Theology in Drama." You can sign up for auditions at the Speech Office, 103 Templeton Hall.

◆ Self-Integration Group

A group will be starting second semester to assist students or spouses with the life task of self-integration. Using Margaret Paul's approach in a book called Do I Have to Give Up Me to Be Loved by God?, the group will learn a journaling technique for facilitating dialogue between parts of ourselves and God. Some of us are led by our heads, others by our hearts, others by ingrained patterns such as perfectionism or caretaking. Our goal will be to learn how to take the various "voices" into account and be consciously responsible for our own behavior and happiness. The structure will be both seminar and support group in format, with time to practice the technique in the session, and some sharing expected. The group will probably meet Wednesday afternoons unless sufficient interest warrants a different time. A fee of $60 will cover two books and seven-to-eight sessions. Some financial aid is available. Please call the Chapel Office ASAP to indicate your interest.

"An Exhibit on the Making of the New Revised Standard Version (NRSV) Bible"
Luce Library Exhibit Hall (first floor)

A special book exhibit is currently on display at Luce Library. The display, "An Exhibit on the Making of the NRSV Bible," contains materials from the National Council of Churches relating to the work of the Standard Bible Committee. The exhibit includes examples of NRSV Bibles, translators' notes, and a short video with interviews with the Seminary's faculty members who served on the Standard Bible Committee, foremost of whom was Dr. Bruce Metzger, emeritus professor of New Testament and internationally acclaimed Bible scholar. The exhibit also touches on some of the controversies that surrounded the New Revised Standard Version, which was published in 1989. Hours for the exhibit are:

Monday–Thursday	8:00 a.m.–11:00 p.m.
Friday	8:00 a.m.–5:00 p.m.
Saturday	9:00 a.m.–5:00 p.m.

◆ Monday, February 4 through Tuesday, February 5
Continuing Education Event: "Doubting Believing: Tracking the Grace in the Grit"
Erdman Hall
10:45 a.m. (Monday)–3:00 p.m. Tuesday

This seminar is for those who find themselves outside the circle of religious communities, for any who seek to learn from questioners and from the doubting parts of themselves. Participants will explore obstacles to faith as "worldly" paths to creative love: through the mundane and the profane, through the element of surprise, and through inklings of creative change. Finally comes the question: How shall we then live? The leader's interactive presentations will draw on poetry, film, music, arts, and quiet connections with the Christian faith and other traditions.

Kent Ira Groff, who has served Presbyterian churches for twenty years, is founder and director of Oasis Ministries for Spiritual Development in Camp Hill, Pennsylvania, and adjunct professor at Lancaster Theological Seminary, will lead this event. He is the author of The Soul of Tomorrow's Church: Weaving Spiritual Practices in Ministry Together (Upper Room, 2000) and Doubting Believing: Tracking the Grace in the Grit (forthcoming), which is the theme of this workshop. (Participants will use a draft copy of this forthcoming book.) PTS students, staff, faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

Continuing Education Event: "Jews and Christians: Partners in Waiting for the Full Redemption of the World"

Erdman Hall 9:30 a.m.–3:30 p.m.

There is no way to talk about Christianity without reference to Judaism. Yet, anti-Judaism has distorted much of the Christian perspective, resulting in a negative portrait of Judaism as well as an oversimplified presentation of Christianity. In the past fifty years, however, scholarship and interreligious dialogue have revealed a far more complex picture of the relationship between these two traditions. This dramatic change in perspective—and its implications for teaching and preaching—is the focus of this interactive session.

Mary C. Boys, the Skinner and McAlpin Professor of Practical Theology at Union Theological Seminary in New York City, will lead this event. She is the author of Has God Only One Blessing? Judaism As a Source of Christian Self-Understanding (Paulist Press, May 2000). She has done advanced study at the Ecumenical Institute for Theological Research in Jerusalem and is an elected member of the Christian Scholars Group on Judaism and the Jewish People. PTS students, staff, faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

Continuing Education Event: "Ministry in the Global Parish"

Erdman Hall 9:30 a.m.–3:30 p.m.

This seminar will include lectures and discussion based on God and Globalization, volume 3 (Trinity Press International, 2000, 2001, 2002), edited and introduced by PTS professor Max Stackhouse.

The central thesis to be investigated is that globalization derives from developments in a Christian-influenced culture, and that a theological and ethical understanding of its character is necessary to guide this almost overwhelming dynamic. Dealing with globalization is the mission frontier of the church in this century.

Leading this event is Max L. Stackhouse, PTS's Stephen Colwell Professor of Christian Ethics. He is currently examining the global patterns of economic, technological, legal, and political developments that are disrupting traditional faith and life and that may provide the basis for a transnational, transcultural civilization. PTS students, staff, faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

Mackay Auditorium
10:30 a.m.–1:30 p.m.; 4:30–7:30 p.m.

Come, follow the path of the labyrinth, an ancient form of walking meditation. The labyrinth provides prayerful space for listening to God. Please allow at least twenty to thirty minutes to complete your walk.

Black History Month Events in February
All of the events listed below are sponsored by the Association of Black Seminarians at PTS and are free unless otherwise noted. "Honoring Those Who Have Paved the Way: Keep Us Forever in the Path We Pray" is the theme for this year's Black History Month celebrations. For more information, contact Stephen Epps or Carla Jones at 951-0906.

◆ Thursday, February 7
Black History Month Opening Ceremony
"Honoring Those Who Have Paved the Way: Keep Us Forever in the Path We Pray"
Miller Chapel 7:00 p.m.
Dr. Gardner C. Taylor, pastor emeritus of the historic Concord Baptist Church in Brooklyn, New York, will be the featured preacher at the opening ceremony for Black History Month at PTS. Dr. Taylor has been widely acclaimed as one of the most outstanding preachers in the nation. He has preached on six continents, delivered the 100th Lyman Beecher Lectures at Yale University, and preached the sermon at the prayer service for the inauguration of President William Jefferson Clinton in 1993. Now retired from the pastorate, Dr. Taylor continues to be in great demand as a preacher and lecturer. He recently accepted an appointment as distinguished professor of preaching at New York Theological Seminary.

A reception for Dr. Taylor will take place in the Main Lounge of the Mackay Campus Center immediately following the service. He will also sign copies of his books The Words of Gardner Taylor, volumes 1 through 5.

◆ Saturday, February 9
Art Exhibit—"100 Positive Men of Color"
Mackay Auditorium 12:00–5:00 p.m.
PTS alumna Melinda Contreras-Byrd will exhibit a project called "100 Positive Men of Color" to highlight 100 Latino and Black men who are positive role models in the culture. She has mounted an exhibit of biographical sketches and photographs of more than eighty men from across the United States, Puerto Rico, and Bermuda, including scholars, social scientists, farm workers, clergy, politicians, artists, entertainers, entrepreneurs, and strong family men.

◆ Saturday, February 9
"The All People's Celebration and Awards Ceremony"
Miller Chapel 2:30–4:30 p.m.
"The All People's Celebration and Awards Ceremony," honors many of the men featured in the art exhibit "100 Positive Men of Color," many of whom will come to PTS especially for this event. This event is sponsored by PTS and the Third World Center at Princeton University.

◆ Friday, February 15
Gospel Concert
Mackay Auditorium 6:30 p.m.
Black History Month continues with a gospel concert featuring gospel choirs from PTS and Princeton University.

◆ Wednesday, February 20
Soul Food Dinner
Main Dining Room 5:30 p.m.
The Association of Black Seminarians invites the PTS community to partake in a southern-style soul food dinner as part of PTS's Black History Month's festivities. Cost is $7 per person.

◆ Thursday, February 28
Black History Month's Closing Platform Service
"Go Preach! Inheriting the African American Preaching Tradition: A Seven-Sermon Ceremony"
Miller Chapel 7:00 p.m.
The closing event for Black History Month will be a ceremony involving sermons from seven of PTS's own seminarians. Included in this event will be prayers, dancing, and songs featuring children from the Seminary community. Faculty members from the Seminary will also be honored during the service.

To All Dormitory Residents

Please do not remove trays, glasses, plates, and silverware from the Dining Hall. These items are being left in hallways, trash closets, and lounges, and it is not the custodians' responsibility to clean up. The Dining Hall has plastic and paper goods that can be used to take food out of the building. Your cooperation is greatly appreciated.

Drivers Needed

Student drivers are needed for airport and train station arrivals and departures for Seminary guests. Flexible hours are available. Apply at the Office of Housing and Auxiliary Services, Room 203, Templeton Hall.

Summer Housing Applications—Dormitory Residents
The Office of Housing and Auxiliary Services will begin accepting summer housing applications on Monday, February 12. Applications have been sent to all residents. The deadline for the summer housing application is April 2. (Students attending summer school or summer language need not apply for the dates of these sessions; you will be enrolled automatically. You will need to apply only if you need housing before or after the session.)

Dupree Center for Children Enrollment
Applications for summer 2002 and the 2002–2003 school year will be accepted beginning March 1. Applications are available at the center or in the Office of Housing and Auxiliary Services. If you have any questions, please call the Housing Office. Parents who wish to re-enroll their children must submit a new application by March 9 to be guaranteed a slot. Enrollment will be based on a first-come, first-served basis after March 9.

◆ Small Groups and Retreat for Couples

Small groups for couples will be starting second semester. The groups will provide an opportunity to experience and learn about communication in a fun and meaningful way. Participants will get to know other couples and learn about communication through observation and conversation. The groups will meet in the evenings, and dessert will be served. These are not therapy groups, and confidentiality is a given. Small groups can be a great way to develop friendships and support, especially if only one partner is a student. For details or to register, please contact the facilitators directly: Carrie Neff and Bill Mitchell (919-1717) or Scott and Crissy Koons (720-1464). If you need help with child-care, please call the Chapel Office at 497-7890. Also, please mark your calendars for a one-day retreat for couples on March 16. Details to follow.

◆ Auditions for Spring Play

This spring, the Speech Communication in Ministry area of the Practical Theology Department will present Murder in the Cathedral by T.S. Eliot. The play, directed by Robert Lanchester, will be performed Thursday, April 11 through Sunday, April 14 in the Gambrell Room of Scheide Hall. Auditions will be held on Monday, February 4 through Wednesday, February 6 from 7:30 to 10:00 p.m. All members of the Seminary community are welcome to try out. No experience is necessary. Three credits are available to students who enroll in the course SC340 "Practical Theology in Drama." You can sign up for auditions at the Speech Office, 103 Templeton Hall.

Contact: Lois Haydu
Phone: 497-7963

◆ Self-Integration Group

A group will be starting second semester to assist students or spouses with the life task of self-integration. Using Margaret Paul's approach in a book called Do I Have to Give Up Me to Be Loved by God?, the group will learn a journaling technique for facilitating dialogue between parts of ourselves and God. Some of us are led by our heads, others by our hearts, others by ingrained patterns such as perfectionism or caretaking. Our goal will be to learn how to take the various "voices" into account and be consciously responsible for our own behavior and happiness. The structure will be both seminar and support group in format, with time to practice the technique in the session, and some sharing expected. The group will probably meet Wednesday afternoons unless sufficient interest warrants a different time. A fee of $60 will cover two books and seven-to-eight sessions. Some financial aid is available. Please call the Chapel Office ASAP to indicate your interest.

Phone: 497-7890

◆ The Communications/Publications Office Needs Your Help!

Student or spouse needed to assist busy Communications/Publications office. Eight to twelve hours a week (or more if time available); $8.25 per hour. Computer experience a must. Will primarily use a PC, but Macintosh experience a big plus. Duties include managing project files, compiling different web databases, handling newspaper clippings, word processing, filing, distributing posters, and various other projects as they crop up. For more information, please stop by the Communications/Publications Office located at 301 Templeton Hall or call 497-7760.

◆ Prayer Labyrinth Help Needed

The Wholistic Health Initiative needs volunteers to help facilitate the prayer labyrinth. No prior experience or knowledge of a prayer labyrinth is needed. The labyrinth will take place on Wednesday, February 13 in Mackay Auditorium from 10:30 a.m.–1:30 p.m.; 4:30–7:30 p.m.

◆ Friday, February 15
Continuing Education Event: "Ministry in the Global Parish"

Erdman Hall 9:30 a.m.–3:30 p.m.

This seminar will include lectures and discussion based on God and Globalization, volume 3 (Trinity Press International, 2000, 2001, 2002), edited and introduced by PTS professor Max Stackhouse.

The central thesis to be investigated is that globalization derives from developments in a Christian-influenced culture, and that a theological and ethical understanding of its character is necessary to guide this almost overwhelming dynamic. Dealing with globalization is the mission frontier of the church in this century.

Leading this event is Max L. Stackhouse, PTS's Stephen Colwell Professor of Christian Ethics. He is currently examining the global patterns of economic, technological, legal, and political developments that are disrupting traditional faith and life and that may provide the basis for a transnational, transcultural civilization. PTS students, staff, faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

◆ Monday, February 18
Continuing Education Event: "The Piety of John Witherspoon"

Erdman Hall 9:30 a.m.–3:30 p.m.

After a brief review of the life of John Witherspoon in Scotland and America, this seminar will concentrate on the religion of this signer of the Declaration of Independence and sixth president of Princeton University. The specific focus will be on Witherspoon's understanding of piety—that is, the way Christian faith should take visible and practical form in ministry, politics, and everyday life. An examination of several Witherspoon sermons will demonstrate the importance of piety in the life and thought of this Presbyterian minister.

L. Gordon Tait, professor of religious studies emeritus at the College of Wooster in Wooster, Ohio, will lead this event. PTS students, staff, faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

◆ Facilities Announcements

Students: The Seminary is upgrading the dormitories and apartments on the main campus to comply with current fire safety codes. A fire suppression sprinkler was installed in Hodge Hall last summer, and Alexander Hall is scheduled for this summer. These projects are a result of the Seton Hall fire a few years ago.

Fire safety is an important issue for all of us. The borough fire marshall inspects our campus twice a year and regularly identifies violations of the multiple dwelling fire code regulations. We cannot emphasize enough the importance of these regulations, and as such, security officers will issue violation citations for infractions. The Seminary's fire safety regulations, some of which are listed below, are included in the Seminary handbook. A warning will be issued for the first citation and a $25 fine for any violation thereafter.

Violations:
Do not:
• cover, block, disconnect, or otherwise tamper with smoke detectors;
• disable or remove any door closing mechanism;
• remove or discharge fire extinguisher without a true fire emergency.

Prohibited:
• extension cords (except for power strips);
• candles

Thank you for understanding and cooperation.

◆ Housing and Auxiliary Services Announcements

To All Dormitory Residents
Please do not remove trays, glasses, plates, and silverware from the Dining Hall. These items are being left in hallways, trash closets, and lounges, and it is not the custodians' responsibility to clean up. The Dining Hall has plastic and paper goods that can be used to take food out of the building. Your cooperation is greatly appreciated.

Drivers Needed
Student drivers are needed for airport and train station arrivals and departures for Seminary guests. Flexible hours are available. Apply at the Office of Housing and Auxiliary Services, Room 203, Templeton Hall.

Summer Housing Applications—Dormitory Residents
The Office of Housing and Auxiliary Services will begin accepting summer housing applications on Monday, February 12. Applications have been sent to all residents. The deadline for the summer housing application is April 2. (Students attending summer school or summer language need not apply for the dates of these sessions; you will be enrolled automatically. You will need to apply only if you need housing before or after the session.)

Dupree Center for Children Enrollment
Applications for summer 2002 and the 2002–2003 school year will be accepted beginning March 1. Applications are available at the center or in the Office of Housing and Auxiliary Services. If you have any questions, please call the Housing Office. Parents who wish to re-enroll their children must submit a new application by March 9 to be guaranteed a slot. Enrollment will be based on a first-come, first-served basis after March 9.

◆ Prayer Labyrinth Help Needed

The Wholistic Health Initiative needs volunteers to help facilitate the prayer labyrinth. No prior experience or knowledge of a prayer labyrinth is needed. The labyrinth will take place on Wednesday, February 13 in Mackay Auditorium from 10:30 a.m.–1:30 p.m.; 4:30–7:30 p.m.

Erdman Gallery Art Exhibit
Caroline Fenn "Meeting Stone"
Erdman Hall

Caroline Fenn brings a wry and diverse perspective to her art of sculpting stone, influenced by her study at Smith College, Yale University, and Union Theological Seminary in New York City and her life as a wife (of PTS professor Richard Fenn), mother of three, and grandmother of five. She says, "Carving reveals what is hidden, in stone, in the sculptor, and finally in the viewers, who make of it what they will." Gallery hours are:

Monday–Friday	8:30 a.m.–4:30 p.m.
Saturday	8:30 a.m.–4:30 p.m.
Sunday	2:00–8:00 p.m.

Women's Conference: Tenth Biennial Women in Church and Ministry Conference
"Inheriting the Promise: And Then ... Leadership from Within"

Erdman Hall

4:00 p.m. (Thursday)–2:30 p.m. (Saturday)

This year's conference explores the many overt and many more implicit expressions of leadership available throughout women's contributions to ecclesiastical and congregational life—past, present, and future. The theme "Leadership from Within" refers to individuals' stewardship of gifts from within God's church and call to ministry, and ultimately from within God's promise. Planned by a committee of PTS faculty, administrators, students, and alumnae, this conference is now a biennial event for everyone involved with women in ministry—women and men, lay and ordained—who find it a source for nurturing community and a challenge to new reflection, both through innovative worship and through the exploration of new avenues by which God may feed their lives and ministry.

Friday and Saturday conference activities will involve a variety of workshops, times for worship, communal song, and small group interactions.

◆ February Is Field Education Recruitment Month!

More than 65 field education supervisors will be on campus in February to meet students in the Main Dining Room during mealtime hours. This will be an informal way to make contact with pastors from local churches as well as supervisors of Field Education's specialized ministries. Check the Wineskin each week to see who will be on campus. A list will be available outside the cafeteria and in the Field Education Office as well. The deadline for having a field education placement for the summer or the next academic year is April 1.

Some of the supervisors who will be here the third week of February at lunchtime are:

Monday, February 18	• Gordon Compton, A Christian Ministry in the National Parks • Rabbi Evan Jaffe, North Hunterdon Developmental Center, Flemington, New Jersey • Mark Millman, Madison Baptist Church, Madison, New Jersey
Tuesday, February 19	•Stephen Faller, Capital Health Systems, Trenton, New Jersey • William Gaventa, Boggs Center for Developmental Disabilities, New Brunswick, New Jersey • Joseph Yoon, Ambassadors Presbyterian Church, Bound Brook, New Jersey • Walter Wagner, Faith Lutheran Church, Hillsborough, New Jersey • Osvaldo Nuesch, Bensalem Presbyterian Church, Bensalem, Pennsylvania • Nancy Schluter, Rider University Protestants, Lawrenceville, New Jersey • Nancy Conklin, Hillsborough Presbyterian Church, Hillsborough, New Jersey
Wednesday, February 20	• Floyd Churn, First Presbyterian Church of Dutch Neck, Princeton Junction, New Jersey
Thursday, February 21	• Ted Tate, Star Lake Presbyterian Church, Star Lake, New York

• Gretchen Fischer, First United Methodist Church, Somerville, New Jersey
• Karen Hernandez-Granzen, Westminster Presbyterian Church, Trenton, New Jersey
(6:00–7:00 p.m. media presentation in the Main Lounge)

1 case of property damage from auto accident

◆ Facilities Announcements

Students: The Seminary is upgrading the dormitories and apartments on the main campus to comply with current fire safety codes. A fire suppression sprinkler was installed in Hodge Hall last summer, and Alexander Hall is scheduled for this summer. These projects are a result of the Seton Hall fire a few years ago.

Fire safety is an important issue for all of us. The borough fire marshall inspects our campus twice a year and regularly identifies violations of the multiple dwelling fire code regulations. We cannot emphasize enough the importance of these regulations, and as such, security officers will issue violation citations for infractions. The Seminary's fire safety regulations, some of which are listed below, are included in the Seminary handbook. A warning will be issued for the first citation and a $25 fine for any violation thereafter.

Violations:
Do not:
• cover, block, disconnect, or otherwise tamper with smoke detectors;
• disable or remove any door closing mechanism;
• remove or discharge fire extinguisher without a true fire emergency.

Prohibited:
• extension cords (except for power strips);
• candles

Thank you for understanding and cooperation.

Symposium on Women and Religion in Africa, and the African Diaspora

"Purity, Power, and Praise: Revisioning Women's Religious Roles in Africa and the African Diaspora"

Whig Hall Senate Chamber 10:00 a.m.–3:00 p.m.

Princeton University

This public symposium brings together scholars of religious studies, history, anthropology, sociology, African American studies, African studies, theology, and ethics. The morning session will discuss women's ambivalent place in African American churches, and education during the early decades of the twentieth century, while the afternoon session will focus on women's religious practices in contemporary Nigeria.

Featured speakers will be Anthea Butler and Deidre Crumbley, both visiting research fellows at Princeton University's Center for the Study of Religion. Distinguished respondents include Laurie Maffly-Kipp, University of North Carolina; Oyeronke Oyequmi, SUNY Stony Brook; Nell Irvin Painter, Princeton University; and Peter J. Paris, PTS professor of Christian social ethics, and liaison to the Princeton University African studies program. Isabel Mukonyora of the University of Virginia and the University of Zimbabwe and Judith Weisenfeld of Vassar College will serve as moderators.

The symposium is sponsored by the Center for the Study of Religion, the Program in African American Studies, and the Program in African Studies at Princeton.

Details about the symposium and the Women and Religion in the African Diaspora project are available at www.princeton.edu/~csrelig. For more information, contact the Center for the Study of Religion at askline@princeton.edu or 258-5545 or the Program in African American Studies at jeanw@princeton.edu or 258-4271.

Continuing Education Event: "Pastoral Care and Counseling in Crisis Situations"

Erdman Hall

10:45 a.m. (Monday)–3:00 p.m. (Tuesday)

In this workshop, participants will develop skills for working in a variety of crisis situations. Topics will include pastoral care and counseling skills for situations such as suicide, sexual violence, violent death, boundary violations, divorce, infidelity, homelessness, child abuse, death, and addiction. Lectures, role-playing, case studies, and discussions will be used as teaching-learning techniques.

Bernard Richardson, dean of Andrew Rankin Memorial Chapel at Howard University in Washington, D.C., and associate professor in pastoral counseling in the Howard University School of Divinity, will lead this event. He has taught counseling, school psychology, and pastoral theology at Southern Connecticut State University, Hood Theological Seminary at Livingston College, and Hartford Seminary. PTS students, staff, faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

Continuing Education Event: "Spiritual Care During a Terminal Illness and Beyond"

Erdman Hall 9:30 a.m.–3:30 p.m.

People who must cope with a terminal illness, or the people who love them, generally fall into two categories: those who are living with a terminal disease and those who are dying with a terminal disease. In both cases there is the need for a unique, intentional, and ongoing spiritual support for all involved. This seminar will focus on giving that special support and on enabling others to be able to give it as well. Attention will be given, but not limited, to chronic conditions and disease, since the principles here apply equally to acute and life-threatening or life-changing situations that may not be related to disease, such as coping with divorce or unemployment, among other possible traumatic occurrences. Specific topics include long-term ministry, what and what not to say, and the value, place, and role of prayer, as well as aftercare—that is, the spiritual support of the grieving and the facilitation of healthy grieving. Participants will be encouraged to share their experiences. Gary Cooper, president and founder of Present Help, Inc., will be the leader of this seminar. PTS students, staff, faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

Upcoming ❖ Events

◆ Monday, March 4–Tuesday, March 5
Continuing Education Event:
"Proclaiming the Resurrection"
Erdman Hall 10:45 a.m.–3:00 p.m.

The focus of this event will be on the possibilities for preaching the resurrection at the three liturgical occasions when that is most often done: Sunday morning, the burial of the dead, and the great fifty days of Easter. The event will include lectures, presentations of exemplary sermons, and discussion of selected written resources. As background for this event, please read Gordon Lathrop's Holy Things (Fortress, 1993). The best collection of sermons to have in hand is Austin Farrer's The Essential Sermons (Cowley, 1991). The leader for this event will be Charles L. Rice, professor of homiletics at Drew University Theological School and Graduate School in Madison, New Jersey. PTS students, staff, faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

Women's Conference: Tenth Biennial Women in Church and Ministry Conference
"Inheriting the Promise: And Then... Leadership from Within"
Erdman Hall
4:00 p.m. (Thursday)–2:30 p.m. (Saturday)

This year's conference explores the many overt and many more implicit expressions of leadership available throughout women's contributions to ecclesiastical and congregational life—past, present, and future. The theme "Leadership from Within" refers to individuals' stewardship of gifts from within God's church and call to ministry, and ultimately from within God's promise. Planned by a committee of PTS faculty, administrators, students, and alumnae, this conference is now a biennial event for everyone involved with women in ministry—women and men, lay and ordained—who find it a source for nurturing community and a challenge to new reflection, both through innovative worship and through the exploration of new avenues by which God may feed their lives and ministry.

Friday and Saturday conference activities will involve a variety of workshops, times for worship, communal song, and small group interaction.

◆ Thursday, March 7
Women in Church and Ministry Lecture—"So: Who Says You Can Speak?"
Miller Chapel 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Freda Ann Gardner, PTS's Thomas W. Synnott Professor of Christian Education Emerita, director of the School of Christian Education emerita, and moderator of the 211th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church (USA), will be the lecturer. An educator and leader in the church for many years, Gardner is an ordained elder at Nassau Presbyterian Church, a coauthor of Living Alone, and the author of Active Parenting in the Faith Community: A Biblical and Theological Guide.

The lecture will be preceded by a dinner at 5:30 p.m. in the Main Lounge at a cost of $7 for PTS students and $14 for others. Reservations are required and must be accompanied by a check payable to Princeton Seminary (WICAM dinner). Please send check no later than February 28 to the Office of Student Relations.

A reception for Dr. Gardner will immediately follow the lecture in the Private Dining Room.

Caroline Fenn brings a wry and diverse perspective to her art of sculpting stone, influenced by her study at Smith College, Yale University, and Union Theological Seminary in New York City and her life as a wife (of PTS professor Richard Fenn), mother of three, and grandmother of five. She says, "Carving reveals what is hidden, in stone, in the sculptor, and finally in the viewers, who make of it what they will." Gallery hours are:

Monday–Friday	8:30 a.m.–4:30 p.m.
Saturday	8:30 a.m.–4:30 p.m.
Sunday	2:00–8:00 p.m.

◆ February Is Field Education Recruitment Month!
More than 65 field education supervisors will be on campus in February to meet students in the Main Dining Room during mealtime hours. This will be an informal way to make contact with pastors from local churches as well as supervisors of Field Education's specialized ministries. Check the Wineskin each week to see who will be on campus. A list will be available outside the cafeteria and in the Field Education Office as well. The deadline for having a field education placement for the summer or the next academic year is April 1.

Some of the supervisors who will be here the third week of February at lunchtime are:

Monday, February 25	• Richard Andrews, Chalfont United Methodist Church, Chalfont, Pennsylvania
Tuesday, February 26	• Staff from the Presbyterian Church of Toms River, Toms River, New Jersey • Lindley DeGarmo, First Presbyterian Church in the City of New York
Wednesday, February 27	• Josephine Cameron, Riverdale Presbyterian Church, Bronx, New York • Jan Koczera, First Presbyterian Church of Hamilton Square, Hamilton Square, New Jersey

	• Angel Evosevic, Fourth World Movement, New York City • Osvaldo Nuesch, Bensalem Presbyterian Church, Bensalem, Pennsylvania
Thursday, February 28	• Glenn Ferguson, Watchung Presbyterian Church, Bloomfield, New Jersey • Chaplain Dolores Boyce, Capital Health System, Fuld Campus, Trenton, New Jersey

◆ Facilities Announcement: Drought Warning in Effect

New Jersey is under a drought warning due to a severe lack of snow and/or rain. The state's reservoirs are currently 10–12 inches below normal. Because of this warning, we ask that you practice good stewardship and conservation when using water—take shorter showers/baths, use washers for full loads only, don't let water run while brushing teeth, etc.—until the warning is lifted and the reservoirs return to normal. If you have, or notice, any leaking faucets, minor drips, or constantly running toilets in PTS residences or dorms, please contact the Facilities Office so the problem can be repaired. Thank you for your conservation of our natural resources.

Continuing Education Event: "New Testament Ethics from an African American Perspective"
Imani Community Church, 9:30 a.m.–3:30 p.m.
Trenton, New Jersey

Reading the New Testament through the lens of African American slave narratives radically alters the way the New Testament materials are understood. This event will consider that radical adjustment to reading from the perspective of ethics. The New Testament materials are not only content documents; they are also documents whose narrative and letter presentations encourage particular kinds of human living. Thus they are also ethical documents. But what kind of ethics do they propose? This event will argue that the answer to that question depends in large part on the identity of the readers involved. African American slaves, not readers but hearers and tellers of the biblical stories, approached those stories with questions and concerns of liberation—social and political, as well as spiritual, liberation. This event will consider whether (and how) approaching the topic of New Testament ethics through their reading lens of liberation influences how a reader understands the ethical perspective of the Gospels, Paul's letters, and the Book of Revelation. Brian K. Blount, PTS associate professor of New Testament, will lead this event. PTS students, staff, faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

◆ Monday, March 4–Tuesday, March 5 Continuing Education Event: "Proclaiming the Resurrection"

Erdman Hall 10:45 a.m.–3:00 p.m.

The focus of this event will be on the possibilities for preaching the resurrection at the three liturgical occasions when that is most often done: Sunday morning, the burial of the dead, and the great fifty days of Easter. The event will include lectures, presentations of exemplary sermons, and discussion of selected written resources. As background for this event, please read Gordon Lathrop's Holy Things (Fortress, 1993). The best collection of sermons to have in hand is Austin Farrer's The Essential Sermons (Cowley, 1991). The leader for this event will be Charles L. Rice, professor of homiletics at Drew University Theological School and Graduate School in Madison, New Jersey. PTS students, staff, faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

◆ Thursday, March 7–Saturday, March 9 Women's Conference: Tenth Biennial Women in Church and Ministry Conference "Inheriting the Promise: And Then... Leadership from Within"

Erdman Hall

4:00 p.m. (Thursday)–2:30 p.m. (Saturday)

This year's conference explores the many overt and many more implicit expressions of leadership available throughout women's contributions to ecclesiastical and congregational life—past, present, and future. The theme "Leadership from Within" refers to individuals' stewardship of gifts from within God's church and call to ministry, and ultimately from within God's promise. Planned by a committee of PTS faculty, administrators, students, and alumnae, this conference is now a biennial event for everyone involved with women in ministry—women and men, lay and ordained—who find it a source for nurturing community and a challenge to new reflection, both through innovative worship and through the exploration of new avenues by which God may feed their lives and ministry.

Friday and Saturday conference activities will involve a variety of workshops, times for worship, communal song, and small group interaction.

◆ Thursday, March 7 Women in Church and Ministry Lecture—"So: Who Says You Can Speak?"

Main Lounge 9:00 a.m.–12:00 p.m.

Dr. Freda Ann Gardner, PTS's Thomas W. Synnott Professor of Christian Education Emerita, director of the School of Christian Education emerita, and moderator of the 211th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church (USA), will be the lecturer. An educator and leader in the church for many years, Gardner is an ordained elder at Nassau Presbyterian Church, a coauthor of Living Alone, and the author of Active Parenting in the Faith Community: A Biblical and Theological Guide.

The lecture will be preceded by a dinner at 5:30 p.m. in the Main Lounge at a cost of $7 for PTS students and $14 for others. Reservations are required and must be accompanied by a check payable to Princeton Seminary (WICAM dinner). Please send check no later than February 28 to the Office of Student Relations.

A reception for Dr. Gardner will immediately follow the lecture in the Private Dining Room.

Women's History Month Events in March
The events listed below are sponsored by the Women's Center at PTS. "Women Sustaining the Spirit—So That Every Generation Will Know the Stories!" is the theme for this year's Women's History Month celebrations. For more information, contact Christine Gannon at 497-9024.

◆ Monday, March 4
Women's History Month's Opening Worship Service
Miller Chapel 8:00 p.m.
The PTS community is invited to come and help celebrate the beginning of Women's History Month with a communion worship service in Miller Chapel. Dr. Nancy Duff, PTS's associate professor of theological ethics, will preach, and many of PTS's faculty and students will help lead the service. Join us for this time of prayer and celebration of women sustaining the Spirit so that every generation will know the stories!

◆ Tuesday, March 5
Noontime Forum: "Yes, You Can Be a Christian AND a Feminist!"
Main Lounge 12:30–1:20 p.m.
Dr. Dennis Olson, PTS's professor of Old Testament, and other PTS professors will discuss the theological and biblical foundations of being both a Christian and a feminist with integrity. It is not an either/or decision. Join us for the discussion!

◆ Monday, March 18
Noontime Forum: "Women Following the Call"
Main Lounge 12:30–1:20 p.m.
Women from the PTS community will talk about their experiences following God's call in their lives, even under denominational and familial restrictions and pressures. Come out and hear the stories!

◆ Thursday, March 21
Creativity Night
Women's Center 7:00–9:00 p.m.
"Knitting! Cause we choose too...NOT cause we have too!" PTS senior Elaine Bowen will teach us how to knit. Contact Elaine at 919-9779 to tell her if you'll be there, so she can get supplies.

◆ Monday, March 25
Noontime Forum: "Women on Death Row"
Main Lounge 12:30–1:20 p.m.
Sister Kathleen O'Shea, a social worker who has done extensive research on female offenders, particularly on death row, will talk about her findings. O'Shea has said that once she put a face to the women on death row, she could no longer ignore them. After completing her book Women on the Row, she says, "I saw my face on a woman on death row and realized that our similarities were quite substantial, our differences somewhat circumstantial." Be there for this honest and startling exploration. This event is cosponsored with Seminarians for Social Change and Amnesty International.

◆ Tuesday, March 26
Noontime Forum: "Women of Faith in the World"
Main Lounge 12:30–1:20 p.m.
Amye Cole, from the Presbyterian United Nations Office of Gender Justice Issues, will speak on the importance of women of faith in the global women's movement. She will address specifically how the Presbyterian Church (USA) has enhanced United Nations meetings and conferences through their women participants. In addition, she will share ways for networking, advocacy, and action for people of faith excited about women's human rights.

◆ Student Government Budget Proposals

The deadline for next year's Student Government budget proposals is Wednesday, March 27. They must be submitted to Hilary Cooke (SBN 385) by 5:00 p.m. of that day.

◆ Housing and Auxiliary Services Announcements

Summer Housing 2002 and Dormitory Housing Information

Dormitory housing for this summer 2002 (May 20–September 1) will be very limited for students not attending classes. Brown Hall will remain open all summer. Hodge Hall will close May 20 and reopen July 16 for the start of summer language and remain open for the rest of the summer. Alexander Hall will be closed for the entire summer, due to the installation of a sprinkler system. We will be reserving rooms for summer school and summer language students—leaving a very limited number of rooms available for those who wish to remain on campus over the summer who are not attending classes.

Students not eligible for summer housing include graduating students and/or those who have completed full-time course work, as well as those not working on campus. Students eligible for summer housing include Ph.D. students (first through fourth year), students working on Field Ed or CPE in the area, and those claiming PTS as their only residence. If you are a returning student and will be enrolled in summer school or summer language, you will only be guaranteed a room for the period that the course is in session. Please note that all summer school classes begin after July 8.

Apartment Sublet Information

Those students who are interested in subletting their apartments to another student(s) during the summer months are asked to contact the Office of Housing and Auxiliary Services for information and guidelines concerning subletting. All sublets must be approved by the Office of Housing and Auxiliary Services. Both lists of students who want to sublet apartments and those who are interested in subleasing an apartment to another student will be posted in the Office of Housing and Auxiliary Services.

"Exploring Prayer and Spiritual Formation during Adolescence" is a groundbreaking workshop bringing together distinguished scholars, theologians, and practitioners to explore the nature and benefits of prayer and religious experience during adolescence (ages 13–19). Through brief presentations and open dialogue, the participants will discuss how to strategically frame and design the research parameters for a major funding initiative that the John Templeton Foundation is planning to stimulate new empirical and theoretical insight within this specific domain of inquiry. The 15 workshop participants, carefully drawn from a wide variety of academic disciplines and religious traditions, are each involved in dynamic research, scholarship, or programs that seek to advance humanity's understanding of the ways in which young people develop—through prayer and other practices—a "relational consciousness" to a Divine Reality.

The primary purpose of this workshop is to explore the relationship between the adolescent spirit and the Creator Spirit. Participants will also explore whether prayer services are an effective "motivational resource" during adolescence, and, finally, they will focus theological and scientific attention on adolescents who have clearly developed a "convictional faithfulness" in the midst of a secularized and relativized society.

This workshop is dedicated in honor of the late Dr. James E. Loder, for more than 40 years a professor of Christian education at PTS. His own scholarly work, articulated in such books as The Transforming Moment, The Knight's Move, The Logic of the Spirit, and the forthcoming Educational Ministry in the Logic of the Spirit, lay close to the heart of this workshop. Until his untimely death on November 9, 2001, Dr. Loder had himself engaged in conversations with Dr. Arthur J. Schwartz at the John Templeton Foundation in planning and hosting this workshop, and it is fitting to continue this conversation in his honor.

"Exploring Prayer and Spiritual Formation during Adolescence" is jointly sponsored by PTS and the John Templeton Foundation. The workshop is open to the public with limited seating, and pre-registration is required by Wednesday, March 13.

"Resurrection in the Torah? A Second Look"
Center of Theological Inquiry 8:00 p.m.
50 Stockton Street

Jon Levenson, professor of Jewish studies at Harvard University Divinity School in Cambridge, Massachusetts, will lead this event. Among contemporary Jewish thinkers, Levenson is surely the most interesting and incisive biblical exegete. He moves easily among modern methods of biblical study, midrash and other traditional Jewish commentary, and traditional Christian commentary. His writings are influential well beyond the borders of Judaism itself, read with fascination by Christian exegetes, systematic theologians, and indeed by unbelievers and those of more distant religious affiliation. Particularly these ideas developed in The Death and Resurrection of the Beloved Son: The Transformation of Child Sacrifice in Judaism and Christianity (1993) have provoked intense discussion and shape the reading of Scripture even when they are not accepted.

Association of Black Seminarians Women in Pastoral Ministry Conference: "Women in Pastoral Ministry...and Your Daughters Shall Prophesy" (Acts 2:17–21)
Contact LeQuita Porter or Brenita Mitchell for location

The PTS Association of Black Seminarians presents its first Women in Pastoral Ministry Conference—"Women in Pastoral Ministry...and Your Daughters Shall Prophesy" (Acts 2:17–21)—on Friday, March 22 and Saturday, March 23.

Friday night opens with a worship service in Miller Chapel with Drs. Henry and Ella Mitchell from Atlanta, Georgia, noted authors of numerous books in the area of homiletics including Black Preaching, Women; To Preach or Not to Preach; and Those Preaching Women. There will also be a reception for the Mitchells in the Mackay Campus Center Main Lounge immediately following the service, where they will sign their books.

The conference seeks to explore pastoral ministry as it relates to the care and nurture of people. It will address the issue of women as senior pastors. It will also seek to challenge the traditional views of pastoral ministry as only involving the office of senior pastor and to address the role of women associates, wives of ministers, and other women church leaders and their impact on and participation in pastoral ministry. The conference is open to all women in ministry.

Saturday will include workshops, a panel discussion, and a closing worship service. A plenary session will feature Dr. Bernadette Glover Williams from The Cathedral—Second Baptist Church located in Perth Amboy, New Jersey. She will address the topic of women in pastoral ministry. A panel discussion led by the Reverend Raquel St. Clair of the St. James A.M.E. Church in Newark, New Jersey, will address the need for sisterhood among women in the church, and such notables as the Reverend Dr. Ella Mitchell and Dean Deborah Blanks, assistant dean of religious life at Princeton University, will participate. Jacqueline Green, the wife of Pastor Johnny Green of the New Zion Baptist Church of Elizabeth, New Jersey, will facilitate a workshop for wives of pastors and ministers titled "Boundary Setting/Relating to the Congregation." A worship service will close the conference on Saturday, with guest speaker Pastor Loretta Smith-Koffi from Shekinah Glory Christian Church in Newark, New Jersey.

A $25 donation is requested, which includes a luncheon buffet. The deadline for registration is Friday, March 15.

◆ Monday, March 18
Noontime Forum: "Women Following the Call"
Main Lounge 12:30–1:20 p.m.
Women from the PTS community will talk about their experiences following God's call in their lives, even under denominational and familial restrictions and pressures. Come out and hear the stories!

◆ Thursday, March 21
Creativity Night
Women's Center 7:00–9:00 p.m.
"Knitting! Cause we choose too...NOT cause we have too!" PTS senior Elaine Bowen will teach us how to knit. Contact Elaine at 919-9779 to tell her if you'll be there, so she can get supplies.

◆ Monday, March 25
Noontime Forum: "Women on Death Row"
Main Lounge 12:30–1:20 p.m.
Sister Kathleen O'Shea, a social worker who has done extensive research on female offenders, particularly on death row, will talk about her findings. O'Shea has said that once she put a face to the women on death row, she could no longer ignore them. After completing her book Women on the Row, she says, "I saw my face on a woman on death row and realized that our similarities were quite substantial, our differences somewhat circumstantial." Be there for this honest and startling exploration. This event is cosponsored with Seminarians for Social Change and Amnesty International.

◆ Tuesday, March 26
Noontime Forum: "Women of Faith in the World"
Main Lounge 12:30–1:20 p.m.
Amye Cole, from the Presbyterian United Nations Office of Gender Justice Issues, will speak on the importance of women of faith in the global women's movement. She will address specifically how the Presbyterian Church (USA) has enhanced United Nations meetings and conferences through their women participants. In addition, she will share ways for networking, advocacy, and action for people of faith excited about women's human rights.

◆ Housing and Auxiliary Services Announcements
Summer Housing 2002 and Dormitory Housing Information
Dormitory housing for this summer 2002 (May 20–September 1) will be very limited for students not attending classes. Brown Hall will remain open all summer. Hodge Hall will close May 20 and reopen July 16 for the start of summer language and remain open for the rest of the summer. Alexander Hall will be closed for the entire summer, due to the installation of a sprinkler system. We will be reserving rooms for summer school and summer language students—leaving a very limited number of rooms available for those who wish to remain on campus over the summer who are not attending classes.

Students not eligible for summer housing include graduating students and/or those who have completed full-time course work, as well as those not working on campus. Students eligible for summer housing include Ph.D. students (first through fourth year), students working on Field Ed or CPE in the area, and those claiming PTS as their only residence. If you are a returning student and will be enrolled in summer school or summer language, you will only be guaranteed a room for the period that the course is in session. Please note that all summer school classes begin after July 8.

Apartment Sublet Information
Those students who are interested in subletting their apartments to another student(s) during the summer months are asked to contact the Office of Housing and Auxiliary Services for information and guidelines concerning subletting. All sublets must be approved by the Office of Housing and Auxiliary Services. Both lists of students who want to sublet apartments and those who are interested in subleasing an apartment to another student will be posted in the Office of Housing and Auxiliary Services.

2002–2003 Academic Year Housing Applications
Housing applications for the 2002–2003 academic year have been sent to all residents. Please complete and return this form to the Office of Housing and Auxiliary Services no later than Friday, March 29.

The PTS Association of Black Seminarians presents its first Women in Pastoral Ministry Conference—"Women in Pastoral Ministry...and Your Daughters Shall Prophesy" (Acts 2:17–21)—on Friday, March 22 and Saturday, March 23.

Friday night opens with a worship service in Miller Chapel with Drs. Henry and Ella Mitchell from Atlanta, Georgia, noted authors of numerous books in the area of homiletics, including Black Preaching, Women; To Preach or Not to Preach; and Those Preaching Women. There will also be a reception for the Mitchells in the Mackay Campus Center Main Lounge immediately following the service, where they will sign their books.

The conference seeks to explore pastoral ministry as it relates to the care and nurture of people. It will address the issue of women as senior pastors. It will also seek to challenge the traditional views of pastoral ministry as only involving the office of senior pastor and to address the role of women associates, wives of ministers, and other women church leaders and their impact on and participation in pastoral ministry. The conference is open to all women in ministry.

Saturday will include workshops, a panel discussion, and a closing worship service. A plenary session will feature Dr. Bernadette Glover Williams from The Cathedral–Second Baptist Church located in Perth Amboy, New Jersey. She will address the topic of women in pastoral ministry. A panel discussion led by the Reverend Raquel St. Clair of the St. James A.M.E. ◆ Facilities Announcements

Spring Fertilizer Application

Weather permitting, at the beginning of April the grounds staff will fertilize and apply weed and pest controls to the Main Campus, the Tennent Campus, and the CRW grounds. Small yellow flags will be placed on all treated areas. Please keep children and pets safely away from the machinery during the application process. Residents should keep traffic on the lawns to a minimum for a few days following the application in order to allow the treatment to work.

Drought Emergency

New Jersey is now under a drought emergency, as declared by Governor James McGreevy. This is due to a severe lack of snow and/or rain. The state's reservoirs are currently 10–12-inches below normal. Because of this emergency, we ask that you continue to practice good stewardship and conservation when using water—take shorter showers/baths, use washers for full loads only, don't let water run while brushing your teeth, etc. Specific restrictions will be announced soon by the State of New Jersey.

If you have, or notice, any leaking faucets, minor drips, or constantly running toilets in PTS residences or dormitories, please contact the Facilities Office so the problem can be repaired. Thank you for your conservation of our natural resources.

Positions Available

The Facilities Office is looking for Seminary students and/or spouses to work on its staff from mid-May through Labor Day. Positions are available in the following areas: grounds work (must wear steel-tipped boots), custodial/apartment preparation at CRW (must wear steel-tipped boots), and security phones. The security phone position requires the ability to speak with a clear voice and excellent enunciation and communication skills in order to effectively communicate with the Seminary community and with security officers via radio. If you are interested in any of these positions, stop by the Facilities Office to fill out an application.

◆ Academic Affairs Announcements

Senior Thesis

Seniors: Are you writing a senior thesis for course credit? If so, and if you have been in residence as a middler, you are invited to enter your thesis in competition for a Senior Class Fellowship for the pursuit of advance study in Old Testament, New Testament, the Departments of History, Theology, and Practical Theology, or the program in Religion and Society. Each fellowship carries an honorarium of $3,000.

Senior and Middler Prizes

The Seminary annually awards two Robert L. Maitland Prizes of $1,000 each: one for the best exegesis of a passage of the New Testament, and one for the best essay on an assigned subject in English bible. The assigned exegesis passage for 2001–2002 must be related to Apocalyptic Hope. The English bible topic for 2001–2002 is "Covenant in the Bible."

The John Finley McLaren Prize in Biblical Theology

A sum of $500 is awarded annually for the best essay on an assigned subject in biblical theology. The subject for 2001–2002 is "The Plan of God."

Please send a letter to the Office of Academic Affairs, 126 Administration Building, no later than Monday, April 1, of your intention to enter any of these contests and the area in which you will compete. A copy of the thesis must be turned in to the Office of Academic Affairs by 12:00 p.m. on the last day of classes: Friday, April 26. Please refer to the current issue of the General Catalogue (pages 188–190, and 198) for more information, or contact Betty Angelucci at the number listed below.

◆ Thursday, April 4–Friday, April 5
Continuing Education Event: "Rereading the Lectionary Texts"
Erdman Hall
Thursday (10:45 a.m.) to Friday (8:00 p.m.)
For novices and veterans alike, preaching is a daunting and humbling task, as the preacher struggles to render the gospel in language that will have traction in contemporary congregations. This seminar will explore the notion of preaching as the rereading of Scripture, playing on the rereading that takes place in the context of worship as well as the many readings involved in interpretation.

Upcoming lectionary texts for Eastertide and Ordinary Time will offer the opportunity for specific examples of various strategies involved in rereading.

Beverly Roberts Gaventa is the Helen H.P. Manson Professor of New Testament Literature and Exegesis at Princeton Theological Seminary. Patrick Wilson is pastor of Williamsburg Presbyterian Church in Williamsburg, Virginia. The two are currently collaborating on Preaching As the Rereading of Scripture (forthcoming, Abingdon Press) and will lead this event. PTS students, staff, faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

◆ Friday, April 5–Saturday, April 6 Continuing Education Event: "Walking the Path of Prayer"

Erdman Hall

Friday (4:00 p.m.) to Saturday (3:30 p.m.)

Prayer breathes faith into the lives of those who willingly walk through its hills and valleys, mountaintops and desert plains. A wide variety of prayer disciplines lie at the heart of the Christian tradition, but a particularly historic one rising in recent popular awareness is walking the labyrinth as a path of prayer. The eleven-circuit medieval labyrinth placed in Chartres Cathedral around 1201 has been replicated in Grace Cathedral in San Francisco and has become the focus of this deeply moving method of prayer. Participants will explore and experience this ancient spiritual discipline of Christian community through an educational introductory lecture, time to walk the labyrinth, and small group interaction.

Lauren Artress, an ordained Episcopal priest, a PTS alumna, and president and founder of Veriditas–The World Wide Labyrinth Project, whose mission is to "pepper the planet with labyrinths," will lead this event. Her leadership in workshops and lectures across the globe focuses on group interactions toward openings for connection between the human and the divine.

PTS students, staff, faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

◆ Monday, April 1 Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Lecture "Great Preaching, Awesome Music, and Revolutionary Action: The Legacy of Dr. King's Mind and Movement"

Miller Chapel 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Robert M. Franklin Jr. is president of the Interdenominational Theological Center (ITC)—the nation's foremost center of historically African American religious training and graduate theological education, located in Atlanta, Georgia. He has an M.Div. (1978) from Harvard Divinity School and a Ph.D. (1985) from the University of Chicago, where his major fields of study included social ethics, psychology, and African American religion. His undergraduate degree (1975) is from Morehouse College, with a major in political science and religion. Dr. Franklin is a scholar-preacher and an insightful educator, as well as a former seminary program administrator and foundation executive. He is the author of two books, Liberating Visions: Human Fulfillment and Social Justice in African American Thought (Minneapolis: Fortress Press, 1997) and Another Days' Journey: Black Churches Confronting the American Crisis (Minneapolis: Fortress Press, 1997), as well as coauthor with Don S. Browning, et. al., of From Culture Wars to Common Ground: Religion and the American Family Debate (Louisville: Westminster John Knox Press, 2nd edition, 2000).

Following the lecture, a reception for Dr. Franklin will be held in the Private Dining Room.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Lecture "Great Preaching, Awesome Music, and Revolutionary Action: The Legacy of Dr. King's Mind and Movement"
Miller Chapel 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Robert M. Franklin Jr. is president of the Interdenominational Theological Center (ITC)—the nation's foremost center of historically African American religious training and graduate theological education, located in Atlanta, Georgia. He has an M.Div. (1978) from Harvard Divinity School and a Ph.D. (1985) from the University of Chicago, where his major fields of study included social ethics, psychology, and African American religion. His undergraduate degree (1975) is from Morehouse College, with a major in political science and religion. Dr. Franklin is a scholar-preacher and an insightful educator, as well as a former seminary program administrator and foundation executive. He is the author of two books, Liberating Visions: Human Fulfillment and Social Justice in African American Thought (Minneapolis: Fortress Press, 1997) and Another Days' Journey: Black Churches Confronting the American Crisis (Minneapolis: Fortress Press, 1997), as well as coauthor with Don S. Browning, et. al., of From Culture Wars to Common Ground: Religion and the American Family Debate (Louisville: Westminster John Knox Press, 2nd edition, 2000).

Following the lecture, a reception for Dr. Franklin will be held in the Private Dining Room.

◆ Thursday, April 4–Friday, April 5
Continuing Education Event: "Rereading the Lectionary Texts"
Erdman Hall
10:45 a.m. (Thursday) to 3:00 p.m. (Friday)

For novices and veterans alike, preaching is a daunting and humbling task, as the preacher struggles to render the gospel in language that will have traction in contemporary congregations. This seminar will explore the notion of preaching as the rereading of Scripture, playing on the rereading that takes place in the context of worship as well as the many readings involved in interpretation.

Upcoming lectionary texts for Eastertide and Ordinary Time will offer the opportunity for specific examples of various strategies involved in rereading.

Beverly Roberts Gaventa is the Helen H.P. Manson Professor of New Testament Literature and Exegesis at PTS. Patrick Wilson is pastor of Williamsburg Presbyterian Church in Williamsburg, Virginia. The two are currently collaborating on Preaching As the Rereading of Scripture (forthcoming, Abingdon Press) and will lead this event. PTS students, staff, faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

◆ Friday, April 5–Saturday, April 6
Continuing Education Event: "Walking the Path of Prayer"
Erdman Hall
4:00 p.m. (Friday) to 3:30 p.m. (Saturday)

Prayer breathes faith into the lives of those who willingly walk through its hills and valleys, mountaintops and desert plains. A wide variety of prayer disciplines lie at the heart of the Christian tradition, but a particularly historic one rising in recent popular awareness is walking the labyrinth as a path of prayer. The eleven-circuit medieval labyrinth placed in Chartres Cathedral around 1201 has been replicated in Grace Cathedral in San Francisco and has become the focus of this deeply moving method of prayer. Participants will explore and experience this ancient spiritual discipline of Christian community through an educational introductory lecture, time to walk the labyrinth, and small group interaction.

Lauren Artress, an ordained Episcopal priest, a PTS alumna, and president and founder of Veriditas–The World Wide Labyrinth Project, whose mission is to "pepper the planet with labyrinths," will lead this event. Her leadership in workshops and lectures across the globe focuses on group interactions toward openings for connection between the human and the divine.

PTS students, staff, faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

◆ Thursday, April 11–Friday, April 12
Continuing Education Event: "Spiritual Leadership for Church Officers"
Erdman Hall 10:45 a.m.–3:00 p.m.
This seminar will explore the following questions: What is a "spiritual leader"? How is leadership in the church similar to and different from leadership in other settings? What are the marks of an effective spiritual leader? How can a systemic understanding of church life provide tools for effective leadership? What resources do church officers have to draw on in carrying out their vocation to be spiritual leaders? What is "discernment," and how can governing bodies function as communities of discernment? How can pastors and officers work together to provide strong spiritual leadership to a congregation? How is it possible to meet the challenges and stresses of leadership in the church without burning out or dropping out? What are the spiritual disciplines that help to sustain someone in effective spiritual leadership? Both lecture presentations and small group discussions will be used, and participants will also work in small groups to analyze situations requiring leadership in the church and to work on effective ways for elders and pastors to respond.

Joan S. Gray is interim pastor of Smyrna Presbyterian Church in Conyers, Georgia, and is former pastor of Columbia Presbyterian Church in Decatur, Georgia. She will lead this event.

PTS students, staff, faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

Gambrell Room, Scheide Hall
8:00 p.m. (Thursday), 8:00 p.m. (Friday), 8:00 p.m. (Saturday), and 3:00 p.m. (Sunday)
The play is staged by Robert Lanchester, visiting lecturer in speech at PTS, who says: "T.S. Eliot's play, Murder in the Cathedral, explores the personal ordeal of a famous Christian martyr. Thomas a Becket returns to England to face four tempters, representing pleasure, power, independence, and self-service, and four knights who come to kill him and justify their actions to the audience. Through a chorus of Canterbury women, the play also addresses the ordinary person's need for church leadership. It is an unusual play, more of a poetic internal dialogue and meditation than an outward dramatic action, and we hope that you will find that it plays well in the intimacy of the Gambrell Room in Scheide Hall."

The play is free of charge, but seating is limited. Tickets are available at the Speech Office, 103 Templeton Hall.

◆ Academic Affairs Announcements

Senior Thesis

Seniors: Are you writing a senior thesis for course credit? If so, and if you have been in residence as a middler, you are invited to enter your thesis in competition for a Senior Class Fellowship for the pursuit of advanced study in Old Testament, New Testament, the Departments of History, Theology, and Practical Theology, or the program in Religion and Society. Each fellowship carries an honorarium of $3,000.

Senior and Middler Prizes

The Seminary annually awards two Robert L. Maitland Prizes of $1,000 each: one for the best exegesis of a passage of the New Testament, and one for the best essay on an assigned subject in English Bible. The assigned exegesis passage for 2001–2002 must be related to Apocalyptic Hope. The English Bible topic for 2001–2002 is "Covenant in the Bible."

The John Finley McLaren Prize in Biblical Theology

A sum of $500 is awarded annually for the best essay on an assigned subject in biblical theology. The subject for 2001–2002 is "The Plan of God."

Please send a letter to the Office of Academic Affairs, 126 Administration Building, no later than Monday, April 1, of your intention to enter any of these contests and the area in which you will compete. A copy of the thesis must be turned in to the Office of Academic Affairs by 12:00 p.m. on the last day of classes: Friday, April 26. Please refer to the current issue of the General Catalogue (pages 188–190 and 198) for more information, or contact Betty Angelucci at the number listed below.

◆ Housing and Auxiliary Services Announcements

Summer Housing 2002 and Dormitory Housing Information

Dormitory housing for this summer (Monday, May 20–Saturday, September 1) will be very limited for students not attending classes. Brown Hall will remain open all summer. Hodge Hall will close Monday, May 20 and reopen Tuesday, July 16 for the start of summer language and remain open for the rest of the summer. Alexander Hall will be closed for the entire summer, due to the installation of a sprinkler system. We will be reserving rooms for summer school and summer language. Students not eligible for summer housing include graduating students and/or those who have completed full-time course work and those not working on campus in a field education or CPE capacity. Students eligible for summer housing include Ph.D. students (first through fourth year), students working on field education or CPE in the area, and those claiming PTS as their only residence. If you are a returning student and will be enrolled in summer school or summer language, you will only be guaranteed a room for the period that the course is in session. Please note that all summer school classes begin after Monday, July 8.

Dormitory and Roberts/Tennent Hall Residents

If you find yourself locked out of your room or apartment during normal work hours, please try to locate the building custodian first. Do not call security unless the custodian cannot be located. This saves time and is often faster since security may be at another part of the campus and unable to immediately come to your assistance.

◆ Thursday, April 25–Friday, April 26
Continuing Education Event: "Behind the Stained Glass: Religion and Media in the 21st Century"
Auburn Theological Seminary
Broadway and 121st Street, New York City
3:00 p.m. (Thursday) to 4:00 p.m. (Friday)

From the ongoing effort to understand Islam in light of the events of September 11 to scrutiny of the Catholic Church's handling of accusations of child abuse, news coverage of religion has never been more important or more challenging.

Religious leaders in New York, New Jersey, and other parts of the country are often unhappy with how their faith communities are treated—when they are treated at all—by local and national secular news media. Meanwhile, journalists continuously struggle with the challenge of getting stories about religion "right."

This discussion will center on "best practices" for covering the complex landscape of religious pluralism in the New York region and beyond, and give insight into how to uncover the religious, spiritual, and ethical dimensions of "hard" news stories.

Various top national and local journalists and religious leaders will be presenting, including some from NBC Nightly News, MSNBC, the Columbia School of Journalism, The New York Times, Beliefnet, and Vanderbilt University.

This event is sponsored by Auburn Theological Seminary, PTS, CrossCurrents magazine, and Beliefnet. To register, contact Kathy Langworthy at Auburn Theological Seminary. Call 800-818-2911 or email mkl@auburnsem.org.

BGLASS Week 2002—"There Is One among Us"
BGLASS Week 2002 is a week of affirmation and education. BGLASS at PTS seeks to support the mission of the Seminary by providing support, education, resources, and fellowship to members of the PTS community, especially those who identify themselves as gay, lesbian, bisexual, transgendered, or questioning (GLBTQ), as well as heterosexual supporters. For more information, contact Rob Ater at 430-8365 or Mary Beth LeCroy at 647-0210.

◆ Friday, April 5
Day of Silence
Today you are invited to observe silence to show solidarity with those who have been silenced by oppression in our nation and throughout the world. We especially remember those who must remain silent because they are gay, lesbian, bisexual, or transgendered.

◆ Monday, April 8
Noontime Forum—"The Gay and Lesbian Church Community: Where I Am on the Issue (and Why)"
Main Lounge 12:40–1:20 p.m.
Come hear PTS professors Katharine Doob Sakenfeld and Nancy Duff share their stories.

◆ Monday, April 8
BGLASS Week Opening Vespers Service
Miller Chapel 8:00 p.m.

◆ Tuesday, April 9
Noontime Forum—"Regional Response to Amendment A: A Conversation with Presbyterian Welcome"
Main Lounge 12:40–1:20 p.m.
This forum will feature a presentation and discussion with representatives from Presbyterian Welcome, a network of New York City churches and individuals committed to actively supporting those who in good conscience must resist all efforts to deny God's calling or grace. The conversation will be led by Presbyterian Welcome's coordinator evangelist, the Reverend Cliff Frasier.

◆ Wednesday, April 10
"Be Captured: Stand Up for Gay Ordination"
Mackay Quad (Rain location: Mackay Auditorium) 12:30–1:00 p.m.
Bring your lunch right outside the Mackay Campus Center for an afternoon of music and ice cream. At 12:50 p.m., we will gather on the Miller Chapel steps to "Be Captured" onto film for taking a stand in support of gay ordination in the church. Make a commitment to "Be Captured" by signing up outside the Main Dining Room from Wednesday, April 3 to Friday, April 5 during lunch. The first 125 people to sign up will receive a free t-shirt!

◆ Thursday, April 11
Noontime Forum—"Stories from the Church: A Lesbian's Experience"
Main Lounge 12:40–1:20 p.m.
Come listen to the personal stories of a lesbian's experience at seminary and in the church. The Reverend Karla Fleshman is a 1999 graduate of Columbia Theological Seminary in Decatur, Georgia, and the pastor of Imago Dei Metropolitan Community Church in Media, Pennsylvania. Metropolitan Community Churches (MCC) are a fellowship of churches that seek to play a vital role in addressing the spiritual needs of the lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgendered community around the world.

◆ Friday, April 12
Noontime Forum—"Stranger at the Gate: To Be Gay and Christian in America"
Main Lounge 12:40–1:20 p.m.
A former ghostwriter for evangelists Billy Graham, Jerry Falwell, and Pat Robertson, the Reverend Dr. Mel White will share his experiences as an evangelical Christian who came out of the closet and is working for justice and reconciliation within the church. White is cofounder of Soulforce, an organization learning nonviolence from Mahatma Gandhi and Martin Luther King Jr. in an effort to find justice for gay, lesbian, bisexual, and transgendered people. (continued)

◆ Friday, April 12

Continuing Education Event: "Spiritual Leadership for Church Officers"
Erdman Hall 10:45 a.m.–3:00 p.m.
This seminar will explore the following questions: What is a "spiritual leader"? How is leadership in the church similar to and different from leadership in other settings? What are the marks of an effective spiritual leader? How can a systemic understanding of church life provide tools for effective leadership? What resources do church officers have to draw on in carrying out their vocation to be spiritual leaders? What is "discernment," and how can governing bodies function as communities of discernment? How can pastors and officers work together to provide strong spiritual leadership to a congregation? How is it possible to meet the challenges and stresses of leadership in the church without burning out or dropping out? What are the spiritual disciplines that help to sustain someone in effective spiritual leadership? Both lecture presentations and small group discussions will be used, and participants will also work in small groups to analyze situations requiring leadership in the church and to work on effective ways for elders and pastors to respond.
Joan S. Gray is interim pastor of Smyrna Presbyterian Church in Conyers, Georgia, and is former pastor of Columbia Presbyterian Church in Decatur, Georgia. She will lead this event.
PTS students, staff, faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

◆ Thursday, April 11–Sunday, April 14
Speech Communication in Ministry presents Murder in the Cathedral by T.S. Eliot
Gambrell Room, Scheide Hall
8:00 p.m. (Thursday), 8:00 p.m. (Friday), 8:00 p.m. (Saturday), and 3:00 p.m. (Sunday)

The play is staged by Robert Lanchester, visiting lecturer in speech at PTS, who says: "T.S. Eliot's play Murder in the Cathedral explores the personal ordeal of a famous Christian martyr. Thomas a Becket returns to England to face four tempters, representing pleasure, power, independence, and self-service, and four knights who come to kill him and justify their actions to the audience. Through a chorus of Canterbury women, the play also addresses the ordinary person's need for church leadership. It is an unusual play, more of a poetic internal dialogue and meditation than an outward dramatic action, and we hope that you will find that it plays well in the intimacy of the Gambrell Room in Scheide Hall."

The play is free of charge, but seating is limited. Tickets are available at the Speech Office, 103 Templeton Hall.

Continuing Education Event—
"Preaching Jesus in the Postmodern Context: Why? What? And How?"
Erdman Hall
10:45 a.m. (Monday) to 12:30 p.m. (Tuesday)

This seminar will examine questions people in the pews are raising about the identity and significance of Jesus, as well as revisit the participants' own understandings of the significance of Jesus Christ. What are the tasks that confront preachers who are helping people to reassess what it means to place faith in Jesus Christ? The seminar will also include matters of sermon design and performance. It is suggested that prior to the seminar, participants read L. Susan Bonds's Trouble with Jesus (Chalice, 2000).

Sally Brown, PTS's assistant professor of preaching and worship, will lead this event.

PTS students, staff, faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

◆ Friday, April 19
Continuing Education Event: "Celtic Spirituality"

Erdman Hall 9:30 a.m.–3:30 p.m.

In the late 1880s Alexander Carmichael (1832–1912), a tax collector, walked the islands and coastlands in western Scotland collecting prayers and songs—mostly in Gaelic—of the crofters, shepherds, weavers, and fisher folk of that isolated land. The prayers and songs have sparked a renewed interest in Celtic Christianity from both new-agers and traditionalists. The seminar will look at the earliest poetry of a Celtic monastery and let it speak its own story. There will be an opportunity to allow the ordinary prayers these ordinary people pray to open us to the unique Celtic emphasis on God's immanence that may provide a way to understand our own precious ordinariness.

Richard Adams, pastor of Pine Street Presbyterian Church in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, and codirector of Sabbath House retreat, will lead this event.

General ❖ Notices

◆ Dining Hall Hours during Alumni/ae Gathering

The annual Alumni/ae Gathering this year will be on Thursday, May 23 and Friday, May 24. Please note that the dining hall will NOT be open for regular meals for anyone other than alumni/ae.

◆ Housing and Auxiliary Services Announcements
Summer Housing 2002 and Dormitory Housing Information

Dormitory housing for this summer (Monday, May 20–Saturday, September 1) will be very limited for students not attending classes. Brown Hall will remain open all summer. Hodge Hall will close Monday, May 20 and reopen Tuesday, July 16 for the start of summer language and remain open for the rest of the summer. Alexander Hall will be closed for the entire summer, due to the installation of a sprinkler system. We will be reserving rooms for summer school and summer language. Students not eligible for summer housing include graduating students and/or those who have completed full-time course work and those not working on campus in a field education or CPE capacity. Students eligible for summer housing include Ph.D. students (first through fourth year), students working on field education or CPE in the area, and those claiming PTS as their only residence. If you are a returning student and will be enrolled in summer school or summer language, you will only be guaranteed a room for the period that the course is in session. Please note that all summer school classes begin after Monday, July 8.

Dormitory and Roberts/Tennent Hall Residents

If you find yourself locked out of your room or apartment during normal work hours, please try to locate the building custodian first. Do not call security unless the custodian cannot be located. This saves time and is often faster since security may be at another part of the campus and unable to immediately come to your assistance.

Room Draw

Room Draw will be held on Monday, April 29 at 2:00 p.m. in Stuart 1 for those students who wish to change dormitory rooms for the fall term. A list of available rooms will be posted in the Office of Housing and Auxiliary Services and in each dormitory on Thursday, April 25.

Summer Apartment Sublets

Students who wish to sublet their apartments for the summer are asked to stop by the Housing Office for information regarding this procedure. A sign-up sheet will be posted for those students who want to sublet into and out of apartments. All sublets must be approved by the Office of Housing and Auxiliary Services.

◆ Teaching Assistants Needed for 2002–2003

The Biblical Department announces openings for teaching assistants in Hebrew and Greek for the 2002–2003 academic year. Interested M.Div. students should write a brief letter of application indicating interests and reasons for applying, language preference (Hebrew or Greek, though students may apply for both languages), general background in the language (list of relevant courses, etc.), past teaching experience, and any other factors that might bear on the student's general qualifications for these positions. Students with past teaching experience, of whatever kind, are especially encouraged to apply. All letters of application should be sent (preferably via email) to Professors Ross Wagner (Greek) and/or Eunny Lee (Hebrew) and should be received no later than Saturday, April 13.

◆ Thursday, April 25–Friday, April 26 Continuing Education Event: "Behind the Stained Glass: Religion and Media in the 21st Century"

Auburn Theological Seminary
Broadway and 121st Street, New York City
3:00 p.m. (Thursday) to 4:00 p.m. (Friday)

From the ongoing effort to understand Islam in light of the events of September 11 to scrutiny of the Roman Catholic Church's handling of accusations of child abuse, news coverage of religion has never been more important or more challenging.

Religious leaders in New York, New Jersey, and other parts of the country are often unhappy with how their faith communities are treated—when they are treated at all—by local and national secular news media. Meanwhile, journalists continuously struggle with the challenge of getting stories about religion "right."

This discussion will center on "best practices" for covering the complex landscape of religious pluralism in the New York region and beyond, and will give insight into how to uncover the religious, spiritual, and ethical dimensions of "hard" news stories.

Various top national and local journalists and religious leaders will be presenting, including some from NBC Nightly News, MSNBC, the Columbia School of Journalism, The New York Times, Beliefnet, and Vanderbilt University.

This event is sponsored by Auburn Theological Seminary, PTS, CrossCurrents magazine, and Beliefnet. To register, contact Kathy Langworthy at Auburn Theological Seminary. Call 800-818-2911 or email mkl@auburnsem.org.

BGLASS Week 2002—"There Is One among Us"
BGLASS Week 2002 is a week of affirmation and education. BGLASS at PTS seeks to support the mission of the Seminary by providing support, education, resources, and fellowship to members of the PTS community, especially those who identify themselves as gay, lesbian, bisexual, transgendered, or questioning (GLBTQ), as well as heterosexual supporters. For more information, contact Rob Ater at 430-8365 or Mary Beth LeCroy at 647-0210.

◆ Monday, April 8
Noontime Forum—"The Gay and Lesbian Church Community: Where I Am on the Issue (and Why)"
Main Lounge 12:40–1:20 p.m.
Come hear PTS professors Katharine Doob Sakenfeld and Nancy Duff share their stories.

◆ Monday, April 8
BGLASS Week Opening Vespers Service
Miller Chapel 8:00 p.m.

◆ Tuesday, April 9
Noontime Forum—"Regional Response to Amendment A: A Conversation with Presbyterian Welcome"
Main Lounge 12:40–1:20 p.m.
This forum will feature a presentation and discussion with representatives from Presbyterian Welcome, a network of New York City churches and individuals committed to actively supporting those who in good conscience must resist all efforts to deny God's calling or grace. The conversation will be led by Presbyterian Welcome's coordinator evangelist, the Reverend Cliff Frasier.

◆ Wednesday, April 10
"Be Captured: Stand Up for Gay Ordination"
Mackay Quad (Rain location: Mackay Auditorium) 12:30–1:00 p.m.
Bring your lunch right outside the Mackay Campus Center for an afternoon of music and ice cream. At 12:50 p.m., we will gather on the Miller Chapel steps to "Be Captured" onto film for taking a stand in support of gay ordination in the church. Make a commitment to "Be Captured" by signing up outside the Main Dining Room from Wednesday, April 3 to Friday, April 5 during lunch. The first 125 people to sign up will receive a free t-shirt!

◆ Thursday, April 11
Noontime Forum—"Stories from the Church: A Lesbian's Experience"
Main Lounge 12:40–1:20 p.m.
Come listen to the personal stories of a lesbian's experience at seminary and in the church. The Reverend Karla Fleshman is a 1999 graduate of Columbia Theological Seminary in Decatur, Georgia, and the pastor of Imago Dei Metropolitan Community Church in Media, Pennsylvania. Metropolitan Community Churches (MCC) are a fellowship of churches that seek to play a vital role in addressing the spiritual needs of the lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgendered community around the world.

◆ Friday, April 12
Noontime Forum—"Stranger at the Gate: To Be Gay and Christian in America"
Main Lounge 12:40–1:20 p.m.
A former ghostwriter for evangelists Billy Graham, Jerry Falwell, and Pat Robertson, the Reverend Dr. Mel White will share his experiences as an evangelical Christian who came out of the closet and is working for justice and reconciliation within the church. White is cofounder of Soulforce, an organization learning nonviolence from Mahatma Gandhi and Martin Luther King Jr. in an effort to find justice for gay, lesbian, bisexual, and transgendered people.

◆ Friday, April 12
The Other Side* Magazine Display
Mackay Lobby 5:00–7:00 p.m.

This Week's ❖ Events

◆ Sunday, April 14
Speech Communication in Ministry presents Murder in the Cathedral by T.S. Eliot
Gambrell Room, Scheide Hall 3:00 p.m.
The play is staged by Robert Lanchester, visiting lecturer in speech at PTS, who says: "T.S. Eliot's play Murder in the Cathedral explores the personal ordeal of a famous Christian martyr. Thomas a Becket returns to England to face four tempters, representing pleasure, power, independence, and self-service, and four knights who come to kill him and justify their actions to the audience. Through a chorus of Canterbury women, the play also addresses the ordinary person's need for church leadership. It is an unusual play, more of a poetic internal dialogue and meditation than an outward dramatic action, and we hope that you will find that it plays well in the intimacy of the Gambrell Room in Scheide Hall."

The play is free of charge, but seating is limited. Tickets are available at the Speech Office, 103 Templeton Hall.

Continuing Education Event—"Preaching Jesus in the Postmodern Context: Why? What? and How?"
Erdman Hall
10:45 a.m. (Monday) to 12:30 p.m. (Tuesday)
This seminar will examine questions people in the pews are raising about the identity and significance of Jesus, as well as revisit the participants' own understandings of the significance of Jesus Christ. What are the tasks that confront preachers who are helping people to reassess what it means to place faith in Jesus Christ? The seminar will also include matters of sermon design and performance. It is suggested that prior to the seminar, participants read L. Susan Bonds's Trouble with Jesus (Chalice, 2000).

Sally Brown, PTS's assistant professor of preaching and worship, will lead this event.

PTS students, staff, faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

Healthy Eating Forum

Main Lounge 12:40–1:30 p.m.

Daniel Jass, M.D., whose medical practice in Ewing, New Jersey, emphasizes nutrition and prevention, will give a talk and answer questions about wellness. Anthropologic and archaeologic research shows that there are, and have always been, cultures predominately free of the types of diseases—heart disease, diabetes, obesity, and even most cancers—that are so prevalent in our society today. Using data ranging from traditional diets to herbal therapy, as well as from modern research on exercise, sleep, nutrition, and lifestyle, allows Dr. Jass to help many people with many difficult medical conditions. It also helps him prevent or reverse demonstrated risks for future illness in well individuals.

◆ Friday, April 19
Continuing Education Event: "Celtic Spirituality"

Erdman Hall 9:30 a.m.–3:30 p.m.

In the late 1880s Alexander Carmichael (1832–1912), a tax collector, walked the islands and coastlands in western Scotland collecting prayers and songs—mostly in Gaelic—of the crofters, shepherds, weavers, and fisher folk of that isolated land. The prayers and songs have sparked a renewed interest in Celtic Christianity from both new-agers and traditionalists. The seminar will look at the earliest poetry of a Celtic monastery and let it speak its own story. There will be an opportunity to allow the ordinary prayers these ordinary people pray to open us to the unique Celtic emphasis on God's immanence that may provide a way to understand our own precious ordinariness.

Richard Adams, pastor of Pine Street Presbyterian Church in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, and codirector of Sabbath House retreat, will lead this event.

PTS students, staff, faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

Continuing Education Event: "A Narrative Approach to Pastoral Care and Counseling"
Erdman Hall
9:00 a.m. (Thursday) to 4:30 p.m. (Friday)
Religious leaders often experience a dilemma in their pastoral counseling work. On one hand, ministers have multiple roles and are trained as generalists, and they often feel poorly equipped to do traditional pastoral counseling. On the other hand, pastoral counseling is an integral aspect of ministry, a central dimension of nurture and empowerment in the church. Narrative theory offers one way to resolve this dilemma by providing a short-term, well-boundaried, teachable, and effective way to help people. This seminar will explore narrative theories and theologies of pastoral counseling so that churches can better claim this dimension of ministry.
Christie Cozad Neuger, professor of pastoral theology at United Theological Seminary in New Brighton, Minnesota, and a United Methodist elder, will lead this event.
PTS students, staff, faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

◆ Thursday, April 25–Friday, April 26
Continuing Education Event: "Behind the Stained Glass: Religion and Media in the 21st Century"
Auburn Theological Seminary
Broadway and 121st Street, New York City
3:00 p.m. (Thursday) to 4:00 p.m. (Friday)

From the ongoing effort to understand Islam in light of the events of September 11 to scrutiny of the Roman Catholic Church's handling of accusations of child abuse, news coverage of religion has never been more important or more challenging.

Religious leaders in New York, New Jersey, and other parts of the country are often unhappy with how their faith communities are treated—when they are treated at all—by local and national secular news media. Meanwhile, journalists continuously struggle with the challenge of getting stories about religion "right."

This discussion will center on "best practices" for covering the complex landscape of religious pluralism in the New York region and beyond, and will give insight into how to uncover the religious, spiritual, and ethical dimensions of "hard" news stories.

Various top national and local journalists and religious leaders will be presenting, including some from NBC Nightly News, MSNBC, the Columbia School of Journalism, The New York Times, Beliefnet, and Vanderbilt University.

This event is sponsored by Auburn Theological Seminary, PTS, CrossCurrents magazine, and Beliefnet. To register, contact Kathy Langworthy at Auburn Theological Seminary. Call 800-818-2911 or email mkl@auburnsem.org.

◆ Thursday, April 25–Friday, April 26
Continuing Education Event: "A Narrative Approach to Pastoral Care and Counseling"

Erdman Hall

9:00 a.m. (Thursday) to 4:30 p.m. (Friday)

Religious leaders often experience a dilemma in their pastoral counseling work. On the one hand, ministers have multiple roles and are trained as generalists, and they often feel poorly equipped to do traditional pastoral counseling. On the other hand, pastoral counseling is an integral aspect of ministry, a central dimension of nurture and empowerment in the church. Narrative theory offers one way to resolve this dilemma by providing a short-term, well-boundaried, teachable, and effective way to help people. This seminar will explore narrative theories and theologies of pastoral counseling so that churches can better claim this dimension of ministry.

Christie Cozad Neuger, professor of pastoral theology at United Theological Seminary in New Brighton, Minnesota, and a United Methodist elder, will lead this event.

PTS students, staff, faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

◆ Monday, May 6–Tuesday, May 7 Continuing Education Event: "Pastoral Care for the Aging"

Erdman Hall
10:45 a.m. (Monday) to 3:00 p.m. (Tuesday)

With life increasing in both longevity and good health, with the consequent increase in the number of church members over the age of 65, and with the proclivity of older people to remain active in religious life, pastoral care for the aging has become a matter of even greater importance. Old assumptions about older people are no longer reliable.

This event will offer background information and suggestions for the formulation of a pastoral care plan for people in later life. The format will be informal, with frequent opportunity for questions, discussion, and comparison of ideas among participants. A suggested bibliography will be provided about gerontology, sociology, theology, and pastoral care.

William V. Arnold, associate pastor for senior adults at Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church in Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania, will lead this event. PTS students, staff, faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

◆ Monday, May 6–Wednesday, May 8 Continuing Education Event: Hispanic Pastors' Conference—"Hacia Una Congregación de Sostenimiento Propio (Toward a Self-Supporting Congregation)"

Erdman Hall
2:00 p.m. (Monday) to 12:05 p.m. (Wednesday)

PTS's fourth annual conference for Hispanic pastors, which is conducted in Spanish, will present the theological basis for a stewardship program for the congregation. The event will explore ways to raise funds to meet the congregation's budget. The conference will look at how to become a self-supporting congregation with a full-time pastor who will serve the people and lead them into mission. Also examined will be strategic planning techniques as instruments for the effective development of congregational ministry.

The Reverend Carlos Cardoza-Orlandi, associate professor of World Christianity at Columbia Theological Seminary in Decatur, Georgia, and the Reverend Rebeca Radillo, a pastor of the United Methodist Church, will speak. PTS students, staff, faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

◆ Thursday, May 9–Friday, May 10 Continuing Education Event: "Faith Finding Form"

Erdman Hall
10:45 a.m. (Thursday) to 3:00 p.m. (Friday)

Loosening, relaxing, and exploring will be key themes of this workshop. Using language, informal journaling, and biblical imagery, participants will be invited to create a series of ceramic vessels and sculptures. Simple hand-building skills, as well as individual guidance and encouragement, will be offered. Each participant will give visible form to a self-chosen aspect of faith, belief, and discipleship. The rejuvenation of springtime will also add inspiration to this adventure.

Patrick Caughy, a public school art teacher from Columbia, Maryland, will lead this event. PTS students, staff, faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

Continuing Education Event: "Behind the Stained Glass: Religion and Media in the 21st Century"
Auburn Theological Seminary
Broadway and 121st Street, New York City
3:00 p.m. (Thursday) to 4:00 p.m. (Friday)

From the ongoing effort to understand Islam in light of the events of September 11 to the scrutiny of the Roman Catholic Church's handling of accusations of child abuse, news coverage of religion has never been more important or more challenging.

Religious leaders in New York, New Jersey, and other parts of the country are often unhappy with how their faith communities are treated—when they are treated at all—by local and national secular news media. Meanwhile, journalists continuously struggle with the challenge of getting stories about religion "right."

This discussion will center on "best practices" for covering the complex landscape of religious pluralism in the New York region and beyond, and will give insight into how to uncover the religious, spiritual, and ethical dimensions of "hard" news stories.

"Death and Dying in Buddhist Cultures"
Princeton University, 211 Dickinson Hall
9:30 a.m. (Friday) to 12:30 p.m. (Sunday)

This conference will focus on the interaction of Buddhism with specific regional cultures in the context of death-related practices.

Papers will address relevant topics in the Buddhist traditions of South and Southeast Asia, Tibet, China, and Japan, across a range of historical periods, with the aim of reaching a comparative understanding of these issues across several Buddhist cultures.

There will be four sessions, followed by a general discussion.

The conference is sponsored by Princeton University's Center for the Study of Religion and cosponsored by the Council on Regional Studies, Department of Religion, East Asian Studies Program, the Humanities Council, and the Stewart Fund for Religion.

For more information, please contact Professor Jacqueline Stone, Department of Religion, Princeton University, Princeton, New Jersey 08544, or visit their web site at www.princeton.edu/~kgcarr/Death_and_Dying/.
